

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*Energy Savings Group opens New Call Centre in Mississauga

Mississauga, ON January 30, 2008 – Energy Savings Group celebrates the grand opening of a new 48,500 square foot, customer service call centre in Mississauga that will serve approximately 1 million customer accounts in Canada and the United States, and will house nearly 500 customer service representatives. This expansion has already created 50 new job opportunities and the company has plans to add more new staff in the coming year drawn from Mississauga and the surrounding area.

“We are very excited about this new call centre here in Mississauga,” says Rebecca MacDonald, Executive Chair of Energy Savings Group. “To serve our growing customer base, we decided to hire rather than outsource, and will be doubling the capacity of our call centre team over the next several months.”

Formerly housed within the company’s head office in Mississauga, the new facility at 80 Courtney Park West features state-of-the-art technology and a comprehensive, open concept design. Customer Service Representatives will handle calls in multiple languages for natural gas and electricity services for residential, commercial and industrial customers in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, Illinois, Indiana, New York and Texas.

“When we decided to expand our call centre operation, it was an easy decision to stay in Mississauga and hire locally,” added Energy Savings CEO Brennan Mulcahy. “This is a great place to live and conduct business. We are committed to becoming North America’s leading energy retailer and to delivering the highest level of customer service. The new call centre will help us achieve this goal.”

Having recently celebrated its 10-year anniversary, Energy Savings Group was named the 2007 ‘Company of the Year’ by the Ontario Energy Association. The award was in recognition of the company’s corporate leadership, commitment to innovations such as green energy options and customer service, as well as its proactive work with legislators and regulators.
